

Carine Roenen Laroche has joined the staff as the new Director of Fonkoze. She is a medical doctor by training. In Rwanda, where she lived and practiced medicine for 6 years, she became interested in managing health services and programs. This experience led her to obtaining a Masters Degree in Public Health in her hometown, Antwerp, Belgium, in 1995. She arrived in Haiti that same year and has been working with and leading multidisciplinary teams to develop and implement development programs since, first with Medecins Sans Frontieres, (Doctors Without Borders) then with the Belgian Bilateral Cooperation. For the last nine years Carine has served with Concern Worldwide, an international humanitarian organization working to alleviate suffering and eliminate poverty, and one of Fonkoze's numerous partners in Haiti.
